Ohio River Booming.

Great Fears of a Destructive Flood.

PEOPLE DRIVEN FROM HOME.

Hundreds of Buildings in Cincinnati Already Surrounded by Water—Railroad Travel Greatly Interfered With. Flood News from Other Places.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 28.—All the elements of a disastrous flood in the Ohio river seem to be now present. Continuous wet weather has saturated the earth so that the excessive rainfall of the past three or four days have all found their outlet in the tributaries of the river. Along the entire valley of the Ohio the rainfall has been enormous.

From the Kentucky side Big Sandy river comes with a boom almost unparalleled, while the Kanawha river, further up, also pours out its swelling volume. The Scioto, Hocking and Muskingum, in Ohio, as well as the two Missis, keep the river bed full, while a rise is coming down from head waters.

Yesterday afternoon the waters began to interfere with railroad traffic, and every inch after that will increase that trouble, as well as cause the elevation of great quantities of goods in all the bottom portions of the city. A flood is inevitable; its proportions depend on the weather of the next few days.

If the present rain should continue, of which there is every indication, it will only increase the dimensions of the coming flood. There is already a disturbance of river navigation, as steamers cannot pass under the suspension bridge. The steamer Sherlock, for New Orleans, is compelled to defer her departure until the water falls on that account.

At 2 o'clock this morning the water was 5 marks indicated fifty-five feet five inches in the channel of the river, a rise in twenty-four hours of two feet nine in the. The rise, while not so rapid as on Wednesday, will be reinforced during to-day by the heavy rains reported throughout the Ohio valley.

At Evansville, Ind., Feb. 2.—The river is rising rapidly, now registers thirty-nine feet on the gauge, which is one-fifth lower than the recent high water mark. The farmers who returned to their farms in the bottom land are again removing their stock to higher ground as rapidly as possible. There is a large quantity of corn along the river which escaped damage by the recent rise but will be reached by the present flood.

Reports from Wabash, White and Green rivers and their tributaries are that they are out of their banks and still rising rapidly.

At Cairo, Ill., Feb. 28.—The Ohio river passed what is known as the danger line here at noon yesterday, and is overflowing its natural banks, compelling large numbers of settlers to move. The bottoms for many miles around here in Kentucky and Missouri are submerged and three railroads are suffering much from softening of roadbeds, washouts and landslides. The Cairo levees are several feet above any possible flood and people are flocking from the bottoms to take refuge in the city. The river is rising at the rate of a foot in twenty-four hours, marking now forty feet.

At Macon, Ind., Feb. 28.—The Ohio river has risen here since noon yesterday an average of three inches an hour. It is now rising two inches an hour. It is bankful and sweeping through in some places. Many factories have been compelled to shut down and others are getting ready for the unwelcome waters. Great damage by flood is reported in the Kentucky river, freight and other property being swept away. Near Patriot two men with a four-horse team, fording Bryant's creek, lost two horses and the wagon, with merchandise worth $500.

Mills Washed Away.
SOMERSET, Ky., Feb. 28.—The continued rains of late have caused a loss to farmers and mill men in this county which will reach far over $100,000. The streams were never known to contain so much water. The mills belonging to James Waddle and William Gorer were both washed away, and not a pound of flour or rail in any of the bottoms along the creeks. The citizens living in the south and east to vacate their houses and hunt higher ground. The Cumberland river was never known to be as high as it is at present.

At Ripley, O., Feb. 28.—The river is rising steadily. The bottoms are inundated, and a large number of families have been driven from their homes. A portion of the north and fifth streets are under water, and the prospect is not inviting to those who were in the floods of 1833 and 1834. The water is now coming up at the rate of an inch and a half an hour, and is higher than at any time since the great flood of 1884. A steady rain is falling, and adds to the gloom.

Landslide at Lawrenceburg, Ind.
CINCINNATI, Feb. 28.—An enormous body of earth, including several acres of surface of a hill which rises abruptly from the Ohio river on the Kentucky side, opposite Lawrenceburg, Ind., slipped into the Ohio river yesterday, with a frightful sound. The impact sent a high wave across the river. Trees and boulders were carried away, as if the hill had been upheaved by an earthquake.

Massillon, O., Flooded.
PITTSBURG, Feb. 28.—A Massillon, O., special to The Times says: The Tuscarawas river is out of its banks. The northern part of the city is inundated, number of streets being impassable; more than fifty residences are surrounded by the water. The water is almost to the high water mark of 1884 and the damage to property will be great.

An Inch an Hour at Louisville.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 28.—The Ohio river is out of its banks and rising an inch an hour. Travel between here and Cincinnati by the Ohio and Mississippi railroad is cut off, but the Louisville and Nashville is still open. There is no fear of great damage.

INTERVIEW WITH DOM PEDRO.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The Brazilian consul general, Dr. Mendonca, has received a copy of an interview between Dr. Morel, editor of La Nacion, of Buenos Ayres, and Dom Pedro, late emperor of Brazil. Dr. Morel remarked to the emperor that the Rio De La Plata would deplore his abdication, because he was the balance of power in that part of the continent. Dom Pedro replied that this need not be so, because the fact that Bocayuva was minister of foreign affairs, was itself a guarantee of an international peace. He spoke highly of Bocayuva, and further remarked that the provisional government had too much to do at home in consolidating the republic to occupy themselves with affairs abroad.

"They have committed an act of injustice against me," the ex-emperor added. "But it is done and remains." He argued with Dr. Morel that the republicans had a very difficult task before them, and said: "They have been obliged to send some military men from Rio to the northern provinces to organize their administration. There were no civilians to entrust with this task."

Dr. Morel asked: "Then how will they be able to consolidate the republican system?"

"Because the Brazilians are patriots," responded Dom Pedro, "and I believe they will exert themselves for the good of the country. I shall serve them in Europe as long as I live in banishment the same as if I occupied the throne. This shall always be my way of thinking, and this is my irrevocable resolve."

Dr. Morel expressed his sense of Dom Pedro's self-abnegation and asked: "But if the people tired of trials and strife should become reactionary and spontaneously call you to be their ruler, would your majesty return?"

To this Dom Pedro replied: "I do not know. I can assure you that I am now as always ready to subject myself to the will of Brazilian people. At the same time I will not be the one to procure, directly or indirectly, intestine divisions and strife."

Dr. Morel then said: "Then you do not think there was cause for the abdication?"

Dom Pedro answered: "There is no reason why I should. The facts are consummated; the facts have force for the present."

"It is said that you will issue a manifesto, and it is anxiously looked for," said Dr. Morel.

"I shall not do so, at least not for the present. I am a man of actions, not of words."

"Does your majesty believe that Brazil will maintain the union under the new order of things?"

"I do. The nation, the fatherland, is above all," was the reply.

"I look upon the Brazilian people as prepared for the republic," said Dr. Morel.

"I believe the same," was the ex-emperor's reply.

"Does your majesty think there will be a reaction in favor of a restoration?"

Dom Pedro answered: "This belongs to the future, about which I know as much as you."

This ended the interview so far as political matters were concerned.

Proved to be a Suicide.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—It has transpired that Claude Chaffenton, the Jersey City silk manufacturer, whose dead body was found in his bath room yesterday, did not die from natural causes as was at first reported. He undoubtedly committed suicide. He had a dagger wound in his heart, and by his side was found a loaded pistol which he had evidently intended to use in case the knife failed him. Business troubles and his inability to meet his financial obligations led to the suicide.

Discovered Just in Time.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 28.—A special from Independence, O., says: A young farmer named William Cansell discovered three ties inserted in a cattle guard on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad last night. He removed them just in time to prevent the wrecking of the fast express.

A Would-Be Assassin.

DR. ALEX. NEIL, OF COLUMBUS,

Called to His Door and Asked to Go on a Mission of Mercy—A Case Almost Similar to the Cronin Case Without the Fatal Results.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 28.—About 11 o'clock last night a desperate attempt was made to assassinate Dr. Alex. Neil, one of the leading physicians and best known men of this city. An unknown man called at the doctor's residence and rang the bell. The doctor, suffering from influenza, went to the door and asked what was wanted. The man said he wanted the doctor to go and attend his sick wife. The doctor then asked the man who he was and where he lived. The visitor answered that his name was Corbin and he lived on East Goodale street.

The doctor said he was too ill to go out, but would fix him some powders. He did so and opened the door a few inches to hand them out, when the man burst into the hall, drew his revolver, and placing it against the doctor's head, said, "I'll kill you." At the same time pulling the trigger, but it failed to go off, and the doctor immediately grabbed the man. After a desperate struggle the doctor succeeded in taking the revolver away from the assassin, whereupon he ran out.

The family, with the doctor, then went up stairs, and directly the man came back and smashed in several windows with boulders. The doctor's daughter ran to the telephone and called up police headquarters. A patrol wagon was sent to the residence and a guard placed at the house. It is thought to be a bold attempt at assassination, or to murder the doctor for money. The object was to get the doctor out on an errand of mercy, like Dr. Cronin's case, when this unknown man, with other confederates near and in hiding, would pounce on and kill him. The doctor was the attending physician of the late Miss Hallis, whose mysterious death has created such a furor in Cincinnati, to which city her remains were taken, and this attempted assassination may be connected with that unhappy affair.

The Strike Growing Serious.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Feb. 28.—The strike situation here has assumed an ugly phase. The Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal company has been steadily filling the places of the old men, until there are now 700 men at work guarded by a force of about 200 police, and the new men stay within the lines all the time for fear of violence from the 1,300 men who are out. It will be necessary for the company to keep these guards as long as the old miners remain in this vicinity, for if a crowd of "blacklegs" should come in contact with the strikers there will be serious trouble.

Boston Capital Going South.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 28.—The Manufacturers' Record reports that Boston capitalists have bought 3,300 acres of land in Lexington county, S. C., which Professor Hittcock, professor of theology in Dartmouth college, New Hampshire, reports one great body of kashin of the highest quality. They have organized a $600,000 company and will at once build large pottery works for making white tableware, etc.

A Newspaper Venture.

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 28.—The Daily Chronicle, a new morning paper, will make its appearance here next Thursday, with Josephus Daniels as editor-in-chief, and D. H. Bromder as business manager. The new journal has a large financial backing. It will be Democratic in politics and the state organ of that party. The Chronicle will be served with United Press dispatches.

Express Train Wrecked.

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 28.—The Chicago limited express train on the Pennsylvania railway at Jersey City at 6:30 yesterday evening, ran into a Lehigh Valley train at Newark. The locomotive of the express train was badly wrecked and the rear car of the Lehigh Valley train, a baggage car, was slightly damaged. No one was hurt and traffic was interfered with for only about an hour.

Suspicion of a Fond Murder.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 28.—A Tribune special from Chamberlain, S. D., says: An old negro woman well known in this section, burned to death yesterday morning. Her building caught fire, and she was unable to escape. The general belief is that she was murdered and then burned to cover up the traces of the crime. The affair is being investigated.

Again Ready for Business.

LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 28.—The Lincoln National bank opened its doors for business yesterday afternoon, the stockholders having made good the loss occasioned by the defalcation of Cashier Bard.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Some Hope Expressed for Minister Lincoln's Son—Other Dispatches.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—Abraham Lincoln underwent another surgical operation yesterday afternoon with the result that he is greatly relieved of pain and his symptoms are generally more favorable. A drain was inserted and pus is flowing freely. The success of the operation has revived the hopes of the family that the patient may recover. Mr. Lincoln requests public expression of his own and Mrs. Lincoln's appreciation of the many cablegrams of sympathy caused by the erroneous rumor of the death of their son.

He states that the physicians attending his son say that the patient has surprised them, and all others about him, by not only surviving Wednesday night, but by being sufficiently strong to permit the operation of tapping, which relieved the heart and lungs from effusion. What was pronounced to be an almost certainly fatal operation, has at least temporarily reversed the patient's hopeless condition, and measures have been taken to prevent further accumulation of pus. Though there is still great danger, the doctors are not without hope of the patient's recovery.

Will Carry It to the Po's.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—The French newspapers of the opposition are raising a terrific howl at the decision of the Paris government to participate in Emperor William's labor conference at Berlin. The decision, these journals declare, is a complete surrender of the principles which every French government and every French citizen has held since France was despoiled by German greed and German vandalism, and in that spirit the act will be treated by the French electors at the earliest opportunity offering.

A Father's Horrible Crime.

BERLIN, Feb. 28.—Emil Neuman, well known to musicians all over the world by his "History of Music," was arrested yesterday on a charge of murdering his son, aged 21, who was found hanging to a bed post, with all the appearance of suicide. The motive for the crime is supposed to be the son's discovery of his father's systematic criminal conduct with many of his pupils, who belong to the best families.

Russia Will Show Her Strength.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 28.—The military maneuvers to take place next summer, preparations for which have already begun, will be conducted on a larger scale than any similar event of preceding years.

Crews Saved.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—The crews of the colliding British steamer Claymoro and the British steamer Colophon are on board of the steamer Queensmore, which passed Browhead last night, bound for Liverpool.

Exhibitions of Paintings.

BERLIN, Feb. 28.—Arrangements are being made to hold a great exhibition of paintings at Stuttgart in 1891, the feature of which will be the predominance of works of the old masters.

Berlin's Labor Conference.

BERLIN, Feb. 28.—Spain, Portugal and other countries are invited to attend the Berlin conference. The emperor will open the conference personally.

Emil Pasha Almost Recovered.

ZANZIBAR, Feb. 28.—Emil Pasha has so far advanced toward a complete recovery as to be able to take long walks daily.

No Wire Trust Just Yet.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 28.—Several months ago the steel wire manufacturers of the United States attempted to organize under the name of the Federal Steel company, with J. W. Gates, of the Bradock, Pa., Wire company, president, and George Douglass, of Allentown, Pa., secretary. The attempt to form a steel wire trust at that time, such was the object of the organization, proved a failure. Representatives of the wire manufacturers have been in this city since Tuesday. Several meetings have been held with an object similar to the above in view. No satisfactory conclusion was arrived at, and the manufacturers again abandoned the idea of a National organization and will continue to compete in open market.

Freight Train and Stock Train Collide.

ELGIN, Ill., Feb. 28.—A Milwaukee and St. Paul freight collided with a stock train at Salt Creek yesterday. Two cars of the stock train were demolished, much stock killed, two persons fatally injured, and two boys badly hurt. The victims were: Firman Ogden, of Chicago, fatally injured; Charles Alexander, fatally injured; Patsy Ryan, seriously hurt; Henry Alger, badly injured. Alexander Ryan and Alger were boys who had run away from their home at Beloit, Wis., and were concealed in a stock car.

Inauguration in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 28.—Governor Boies was yesterday afternoon inaugurated in the hall of the house of representatives as the first Democratic chief executive of the state elected in thirty-four years. As became the occasion the capital was gayly decorated with flags and patriotic emblems. The single rate for the round trip tickets from all state points, granted by the various railroad companies, operated to secure the attendance of a vast concourse of visitors.

Faced Death Rather Than His Shortage.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 28.—The dead body of William Shinnacher was found in a shanty in Zoller's grove last night. A revolver was found lying at his side and there was an ugly bullet wound in his right temple. The death was the result of suicide. He was formerly a tax collector and became short in his accounts about $500. He was to have had a hearing before an alderman yesterday morning. Deceased leaves a widow and grown-up children.

THE EVENING BULLETIN

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1890

The World's Fair business has developed into a huge political scheme of the Republicans. That ought to kill it.

COLUMBIA BENNETT H. YOUNG, who built the Louisville Southern Railroad, is a candidate for delegate to the Constitutional convention from Louisville. The Colonel has shown himself to be one of the most progressive men of the State.

The importers and manufacturers of rubber and rubber goods organized a trust a few days ago and have sent prices bounding away up. This will take thousands of dollars out of the pockets of the masses and put it in the pockets of the few who compose this class.

ANOTHER Democratic Congressman has been fired and his Republican contestant seated. This time Pendleton, of West Virginia, is the fellow who had to walk the plank. A failure to oust a Democrat where the opportunity is given would not be carrying out the Republican programme.

The Frankfort correspondent of the Louisville Times says that of the one hundred and seventy new bills which have become laws during the present session of the Legislature only ten are of a general nature. If the State Solons can't do any better than this they ought to quit. But they will not. The local bills have to be passed.

This sugar trust is protected by a high tariff. This gives it a grip on the consumers of this country and it makes them pay three and four cents a pound more than the foreign consumer pays for the same quality of sugar. Do you "catch on?" Is the tariff a tax? Isn't it a cloak to cover up a legalized robbery of one class for the benefit of another?

HARRIMAN, down on the Cincinnati Southern, near Chattanooga, is the latest "boom" town to come to the front. Four thousand men attended a sale of lots this week. They found only a strip of woods, no improvements, but that didn't deter some of them from paying as high as $80 a front foot for lots. It's a mighty cold day when a company of "boomers" can't rope in a lot of suckers.

Sees the Handwriting on the Wall. "A newspaper correspondent recently asked Congressman Butterworth, of Cincinnati, if he should be a candidate for another term," says the New York Times.

"If the present House," replied Mr. Butterworth, "does not do something towards a revision of the tariff I shall not be, for there will be no prospect of my election. I believe that the only hope of continuing Republican control of the House lies in a fair and thorough revision of the tariff, but I am afraid our people will only do as they have done."

"He sees that those who do not need or deserve protection get a good deal more of it than those who do," and that "there is an infinite number of articles on which the duties are excessive and ought to be reduced." Mr. Butterworth is a legislator and politician of long experience. He is willing to be taught by the recent elections in Ohio and Iowa.

They Get Paid For It. The Census Department is now overwhelming citizens and others throughout the country with big bundles of blanks to fill out. Every citizen should feel it his duty to help along the glorious government of ours, but very frequently a man feels that the reward for the work is not sufficiently large to be any inducement for him to drop, even though temporarily, the question of bread and butter to make easier the task of some sleek, well-fed official at Washington who gets paid for the labor that he wants some body else to perform. The Census Department fellows should be made to earn their salaries.—Geo. Gettman (O.) News-Herald.

That's right. They have sent the editor of the BULLETIN a long list of "blanks," but if they expect us to help them out or do any "thanking" jobs for them, they will get left. Our time is pretty well taken up in making our paper as readable as possible, and we haven't the inclination or the opportunity to run about and gather up statistics of the county's financial affairs and the city's financial and industrial affairs for the past ten years, and then fill out a long list of blanks and forward them to Washington City. If the Superintendent of the Census wants the blanks he has sent us he can have them. He will have to get some one else to furnish the information he seeks—some one who is better able to donate his time and labor to this poor National Government of ours.

A Pleasing Sense of health and strength renewed and of ease and comfort follows the use of Syrup of Figs, as it acts in harmony with nature to effectually cleanse the system when costive or bilious. For sale in 50c. and $1 bottles by all leading druggists.

Stock, Crop and Turf Items.

Thirty head of valuable horses were shipped to Germany from New York, two weeks ago. Among others were Lady White Foot, 2:14; Rareripe, 2:19; Dan Jenkins, 2:27; Little Thorpe, 2:34. Some green trotters and carriage horses were in the consignment.

Seven animals have run a mile in from 1:39 4/5 to 1:40 1/2 within a second of the fastest record. It is probably only a question of a short time when the record of Ten Brock, 1:39 1/2, which has stood immovable for a dozen years, will be equaled or excelled, say an exchange.

Canadian papers at hand state that there is quite a scarcity of first-class stockers and good beef cattle throughout the Dominion. The same thing is unquestionably true of very many cattle growing districts of the United States; in fact the points from which a fair average supply of either store or feed cattle are reported are much more than balanced by those at which the condition of things is just the opposite. Cattle ought therefore to be decidedly higher in price than they are now.—Exchange.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

WASHINGTON.

Not a tobacco bed sown in the county. We hear that Frank Nelson will soon return to the color of his tobacco.

Charles Wood sold his tobacco to James Owens at 8 cents.

Henry Thompson goes to Bath County to work the farm of Major Alfred Peed.

Charles Wood will have his sale in a few days and remove at once to St. Joseph, Mo.

Miss Willa Hargrove is engaged in teaching a select school in Franklin Academy, at Peru, Ind.

Rev. W. T. Sparks will remove from Maysville to this place in a temporary Presbyterian parsonage as soon as it can be repaired.

We are sorry to hear of the disaster to our old friend F. M. Young of Mt. Olive. He is an honest and true man, and is deserving of better luck.

Judge Foster, of Missouri, was here this week to confer with the Democrats in regard to their interests and claims in which they have mutual interests.

C. F. Taylor could not cry the sale of Rev. Clean Keyes on account of having to watch his tobacco which was being threatened by the risk of fire.

Mrs. Bartzel informs us her son Henry writes that he is having tomatoes, peas, and all other vegetables, also strawberries, at their Florida home.

W. M. Paxton, of Missouri, has sent us a poem, such as he only can write, "dedicated to the noble band of temperance crusaders who, February 5, 1890, ended the undesired season of Lathrop, Mo., and poured their liquor in the gutter." We wish all his friends could read it.

Who has become of our young friend, late of the Democrat, who so kindly volunteered the information that "they point" from Washington street "chestnuts" of the first water? We suppose he has likely "gone up high," and might now be found at the wheel, or the London Times, in Mr. Walter's place.

SHANNON.

Mr. Joe Vann, a returned miner from Colorado, is the guest of Mr. A. J. Stiles. He is very bright and interesting on the subject of mining, smelting, assaying, &c. He will go to Elliptical County next week on a prospecting tour.

Mr. H. P. Watson has returned from a week's sojourn among the thoroughbreds, flyers, trotters, &c., of Fayette County, making in the big houses at Lexington. He is of the opinion that the high prices for these horses will be maintained for long years to come.

Bur, 8 Trigg, the Olivet "bism" man, is a vigilant ally of the newspaper reporters and knows how to gather and condense the news. The fact that he had been so severely punished for the same kind of work at the Burns had his back up and was en route for Maysville, where he furnished a column of losses and incidents for the DAILY BULLETIN, returned in the afternoon with a pile of proof sheets, for distribution among the eager news readers along the line.

ABERDEEN AND BROWN COUNTY. E. E. Graham will be the Census Enumerator in Higby's district. No one has yet been selected at Georgetown.

The bill allowing one year's salary—$500—to the widow of the late Senator Ashburn, of this district has become a law.

One day recently Treasurer Richey, of this county, had $11,250 laid up in his big safe at Georgetown. He didn't keep it on hand very long.

J. W. Elyar, "The Defender" of Adams County, is becoming quite a point, and he looks as if he would gradually fill the seat of Representative from the new district in the next Congress.—Hillsboro Gazette.

There is to be a repetition of the scenes of "Satanstoe." It looks much like it from the way the man keeps coming down and the river boats coming up.

S. S. Riley, P. E. C. of Maysville Commandery No. 10, K. T.

Maysville Commandery No. 10 has been informed with the utmost regret of the demise of our worthy brother, Samuel S. Riley, Past Commandery.

His widow, Mrs. Riley, by her competent advice of a Superior Power, a worthy lady has been enabled to leave her home and to walk in the fields of usefulness, for as this life is measured, it has been cut short and halted. The sickle of grief and sorrow has been thrust into the bosom of the fruit of the orchard bathed in the dew of life, but the Supreme Wisdom that doeth all things well and surely knoweth best, for He measures the ebb and flow of our existence, and counts man's life as of "a few days and full of trouble."

His friends bend in humble acknowledgment of that Infinite Goodness that doeth all things well, and consign his soul to the judgment of their God, who is full of mercy and whose justice is sweetened with infinite love for the frail family of his creation.

How right he was when he walked in life, and forgetting every sin in the contemplation of his many virtues.

We resolve, that our noble order hath lost a worthy Sir Knight, made up of charity, full of generosity, honest, true and brave, to his friends constant, and true, to society obedient, gracious and polite, knowing no self interest when worthy necessity begged his help, prone to indulge and pardon the faults of others and cure them. By self he was a true brother, friend to the poor and a noble man.

Our God and his will meet him as a father, not a judge.

Resolved, That the standard of this Commandery be draped in mourning for the space of sixty days.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased and spread upon the altars of the true brother, friend to the poor and a noble man.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased and spread upon the altars of the true brother, friend to the poor and a noble man.

SMOTHERED TO DEATH

Sol Kinsler Buried in a Chute
Beneath Tons of Grain.

Sol Kinsler met a frightful fate at Cincinnati Wednesday evening. He was caught in a chute at the Central Elevator and buried beneath tons of grain.

The Enquirer in its account of the accident says: "In the center of the building is a huge bin, forty feet square, and running from the ground floor to the top of an extension, which gives it a total height of over fifty feet. A chute leads from a funnel-shaped outlet at the bottom of the bin, bending sharply in the basement and emptying at the level of the doors of the cars in the old canal bed, close to the building."

On the evening in question Kinsler went to the fourth story and descended a ladder inside the bin to the level of the grain, with which the bin was about one-third filled. With a pole, used for the purpose, he was keeping the corn moving toward the center of the bin, where it entered the chute. Suddenly the flow of corn from the mouth of the chute ceased, and a man was sent up to see what was the matter. He looked into the bin and Kinsler had disappeared. Suspecting what had occurred, he called the rest of the workmen, and when the outlet of the chute had been closed the men started to shovel away the grain from the mouth of the funnel. After working almost half an hour the bend in the chute was reached, and there was found the body of the unfortunate workman, where it had been jammed in beneath tons of grain. He had descended feet first, and the body was wedged in so tightly that it was dragged out with the greatest difficulty.

Kinsler moved from this city to Cincinnati several months since. He was a hard-working fellow, and was liked by all who knew him.

A corps of surveyors and engineers attached to the K. C. railroad was sent on this week to make a re-survey of the route of the Covington and Louisville railroad, which it was attempted to build in 1854. It is understood that President Ingalls, of the Big Four and C. and O., contemplates reviving the project and carrying it through.

Harry Fuller, General Passenger Agent of the Chesapeake and Ohio, and receiving as large a salary, it is stated, as any General Passenger Agent in the country, in 1870 was conductor of a sleeping car running into St. Louis. John Abbott, General Passenger Agent of the Erie at that time, says he saw there was something in the young man, and placed him at Indianapolis to look after the passenger interests of the company in that territory, and he developed so well that he soon took him to New York, and finally advanced him to the position of Assistant General Passenger Agent. From that time he has steadily been pressing to the front, until he now ranks among the best passenger men.—Courier-Journal.

She will be 150 feet long, 28 feet beam, and has a 7-foot depth of hold. The boat has three fore and aft bulkheads, and cross bulkheads, which divide the hull into twenty-five water-tight compartments. Should one of these be perforated in any way the boat would not sink, as they do not communicate." She will be named the John Penny No. 2.

GEO. LAPHORN & Co., of Cincinnati, have offered to move their shoe factory to Georgetown, O., if a suitable building, with engine, boiler, shafting, &c., is furnished them free. They guarantee to stay at least ten years.

THE BOOMING OHIO.

A Rise of About Nine Inches Here
Last Night—The Water Still
Climbing the Banks

The Ohio is on a big boom and still rising.

Between 8 o'clock last night and daylight this morning the rise amounted to about nine inches. The water is still climbing the banks to-day, but not so fast. The water has reached the curbstones at places between Market and Limestone. Wharfmaster Poister has his boat anchored along side the iron viaduct and is still receiving and discharging freight, but the draymen haven't much space to work in. The ferry Gretna Green is still running, but is carrying passengers only.

The water is two or three feet deep on Bridge street at the railroad crossing, and the street cars have stopped running.

The water has seriously interfered with travel over the C. & O. Railroad, and all trains are behind time. There are ten places on the route between Huntington and Cincinnati which are giving much trouble. The east-bound fast express was about an hour late this morning.

Following are the latest telegrams received by Wharfmaster Poister:

Rising one inch in three hours at Portsmouth.

Stagnant at Huntington.

Rising at Point Pleasant.

Raised six inches at Galipolis last night.

The river was falling at Pittsburg last night at 12 o'clock. The K. and W. and Big Sandy were also falling.

Miss Lucy Duffett, of Washington, Marion County, is the guest of Miss M. L. Turvey, on Fifth street.—Pittsburg Record.

Mr. Ben F. Doherty, a prominent resident of Mexico, Mo., was visiting his relatives here this week. It is reported that Mr. Doherty will soon lead to the altar one of Tuckahoe's charming daughters.—Dover News.

Sweetest Male Singer on the American Stage.

An exchange says: "There is a peculiar charm in the singing of Charles T. Ellis which is hard to describe. He has been nominated as the sweetest male singer upon the American stage, and that opinion has been reiterated in almost every city where Mr. Ellis has appeared since. In 'Casper, the Yodler,' ample opportunity is given him to sing and dance at his very best, and he is not slow to improve it. As a German dialect comedian he certainly ranks very high, but it is with his voice and his feet that his reputation has been made. Mr. Ellis is seen in three distinct characters, Casper, the Yodler, Nippon O'Reilly, a detective, and Katrina Stutzemberger, each with songs and dances appropriate to the character. Seats now on sale at Taylor's."

Changes at the C. and O. Depot.

Mr. John Schnelle has succeeded Mr. Wat Mendenhall as night operator. The latter left yesterday to visit his parents at New Carlisle, O., and will go thence to Denver, Col. Mr. S. M. Kane, day operator, will be succeeded to-morrow by Mr. Hugh Foley, of South Ripley. Mr. Kane goes to Cincinnati.

The long platform has been lowered about two feet and made ten or twelve feet wide. The old one proved to be too dangerous to passengers getting on and off trains.

Postponed Again.

The C. and O.'s new schedule will not go into effect next Sunday. The flood in the Ohio has interfered considerably with traffic on the road, and has necessitated another postponement of the new timetable and the putting on of new trains, probably for a week or so.

The Fleming Times-Democrat says: "Rev. D. A. Beardsley, of Maysville, was here Tuesday to assist at the funeral of Dr. R. A. Lightfoot. We are glad to learn from him that his wife's mental condition is very much improved and that strong hopes are entertained of her recovery."

The young editor of the Bracken Chronicle "writ" Dover up a few days ago in a style that didn't throw the Doverites into ecstasies, and some fellow hits him a "sockdolager" in the last issue of the News. We are satisfied Brother Stevenson has acted very indiscreetly. When that Middlesborough crowd take hold of Dover and boom it into a promising city, he will want to move up and will wish then he hadn't said such mean things about the place.

CONTESTED ELECTION SETTLED.

The Atkinson-Pendleton Case Decided in Favor of Mr. Atkinson by a Strict Party Vote—The New Member Sworn In—Senate Proceedings—Other Washington Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—The contested election case of Atkinson vs. Pendleton was called up in the house immediately after the reading of the journal, and the floor was accorded to Mr. Pendleton. Mr. Pendleton said that although he knew that he was addressing a jury which was prejudiced against him he felt it a duty to speak in his own behalf. He reviewed the evidence in detail and declared his belief that he had been fairly and honestly elected.

Mr. Cooper, of Ohio, closed the debate. The vote was then taken on the minority resolution on declaring Pendleton entitled to the seat. It was defeated, yeas 142, nays 159, a strict party vote. The vote was then taken on the majority resolution. The Democrats refrained from voting in order to have the contest settled by less than a quorum so that the question of the right of the speaker to count a quorum may be taken before the counts. The vote resulted, yeas 162, nays 0, the speaker counting a quorum.

Mr. O'Ferrall, of Virginia, raised the point of no quorum, but the speaker ignored him, and the newly elected member, Mr. Atkinson, appeared at the bar of the house and amid applause on the Republican side, took the oath of office. A resolution was adopted making bills from the committee on public buildings and grounds a special order for March 4 and 5.

The house then in committee of the whole proceeded to consider the urgent deficiency bill, but after some discussion and without action on the bill, at 5 o'clock adjourned.

Among the bills introduced in the house today were the following:

By Mr. Wright, of Pennsylvania, for relief of dependent widows of soldiers who died from other causes than that upon which pensions are granted.

By Mr. Buckalew, of Pennsylvania, a joint resolution relating to railroad connection with South America.

By Mr. Owens, appropriating $10,000 for a public building at Newark.

By Mr. Bingham, of Indiana, to authorize the postmaster general to contract for foreign mail service where the foreign offices are not more than 1,500 nautical miles distant from the domestic office.

By Mr. Miles, of Connecticut, amending the world's fair bill so that at least two of the twelve members of the board of control shall be women.

By Mr. Partine, of Nevada, appropriating $75,000 for a public building at Virginia City, Nev.

By Mr. Skinner, of North Carolina, appropriating $100,000 for a public building at Elizabeth City, N. C.

Senate Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—In the senate the calendar was taken up and the bill for the erection and location of a bronze statue of Christopher Columbus, at the western entrance to the capitol grounds, was passed.

Mr. Evans stated that as Mr. George did not desire to speak on the resolution as to the election of a president pro tem, he would not ask its consideration. Mr. Blair made a like statement as to the educational bill, on which Mr. Spooner was to speak.

Bills on the calendar were taken up and passed making appropriations for public buildings as follows: Roanoke, Va., $100,000; Norfolk, Va., $150,000; Newport News, Va., $100,000; Lynchburg, Va., (extension), $50,000; Petersburg, Va., enlargement and improvement, $50,000.

The senate then proceeded to the consideration of the bill to declare unlawful trusts and combinations in restraint of trade and production.

Mr. Sherman, who reported the bill from the committee on finance, said that he had been instructed by the committee to move to strike out the section which fixes penalty for entering into trusts or combinations.

Mr. George opposed the bill on the ground of its inefficiency and unconstitutionality. The bill he characterized as an abortion that would aggravate rather than diminish the evil. He quoted Mr. Sherman's statement last congress to the effect that trusts could be best put down by tariff legislation and argued that this bill entirely ignored that idea. A bill framed, he said, with such utter contradictory and irreconcilable ends could not fail to be inefficient and to be a miserable shame.

The senate then went into secret session and a few moments later, at 4:50 p. m., adjourned.

Another Contested Election Case.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The majority report of the committee on elections in the contested election case of Sidney E. Mudd, Republican, against Burnes Compton, Democrat, from the Fifth congressional district of Maryland, was made to the house by Mr. Cooper, of Indiana. Mr. Moore, of Texas, submitted the view of the Democratic members of the committee in a minority report. Both reports discuss the case at great length, and each sustains the claims made by the party in whose favor each report is made. The majority report declares Mudd entitled to Compton's seat by a plurality of 154 votes. The minority report disputes the claims of the majority, and holds that Compton was properly elected. It concedes to Mudd a few votes claimed, but not counted for him.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—The mail storage train, No. 47, westbound, was burned at Blue Creek, Utah. The car and contents are a total loss destroying through mails for this city consisting of letters and papers. There was no registered mail in the car. The amount of mail burned and the cause of fire is unknown.

VERY CLOSE CALL.

The Steamer La Champagne Runs Down a Schooner.

New York, Feb. 28.—The steamer La Champagne, which arrived Wednesday from Havre, ran down the schooner Belle Higgins off Shinnecock light at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning. A small hole was made in the steamer's bow, but the water-tight bulkhead just prevented the water from getting beyond the forward compartment.

Some of the passengers were awakened by the shock, and came on deck, but there was no alarm, and most of the passengers did not know of the accident until several hours afterward. The schooner was lumber laden, and therefore did not sink. Her crew were taken aboard and brought here. The schooner was anchored, and a tug has been sent to tow her in.

There was no fog at the time of the collision, but it was dark. The steamer saw a flash light on the schooner, and took her for a pilot which boat generally signals incoming steamers about that locality. The steamer therefore did not alter her course, as she would do in the case of a regular sailing vessel. The schooner kept on across the schooner's bow, and the collision occurred.

The accident was almost precisely similar as to time, place and circumstances to the one which resulted in the sinking of the Oregon some years ago, when 500 passengers narrowly escaped.

Mr. Cleveland Sells Oak View.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Ex-President Cleveland has sold Oak View, his country home near this city, to F. G. Newlands, the representative of a California syndicate which has been buying largely of suburban property in this vicinity. The price paid was $140,000, which nets Mr. Cleveland a profit of about $100,000 over the price paid for the property and the cost of improvements during the four years he owned it.

Getting Monotonous.

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Feb. 28.—Three incendiary fires occurred here in four days. Wednesday night the Schutt tenement house was burned to the ground, and the occupants narrowly escaped. The Eagle hotel and a dwelling house were the others burned. There will be a lynching bee if the incendiary is caught.

Ohio to Be Redistricted.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 28.—Price's redistricting bill passed the house by a vote of 60 to 46. Senator Sencraft will not vote for the bill until the section putting Lucas in the same district with Sandusky and Erie is changed. The Columbus ripper bill was postponed until next Wednesday.

HOW TO JUDGE.

"Judge the people by their action"—"It is a rule you often get—"

Have I known you, brother, sister? Have I looked into your heart?

Mingled with your thoughts my feelings, taken of your life my part?

Through the warp of your convictions sent the shuttle of my thought,

Till the web became a Credo, for us both, of should and ought?

Seen, in thousand ways, your nature, in all act and look and speech?

By that large induction only I your law of being reach.

Now I hear of this wrong action—what is that to you and me?

Sin which you may have done it—fruit, not nature, to the tree.

Foreign graft has come to bearing—mistake grows on your bough—

If I ever really knew you, then, my friend, I know you now.

So I say, "He never did it," or "He did not so intend."

Or "Some foreign power, o'ercame him"—so I judge the action, friend!

Let the mere outside observer note appearance as he can.

James Freeman Clarke.

Jimnie's Opinions. Interested fathers and mothers are often anxious to see their children's school reports, but possibly they might gain a deeper knowledge of the childish mind if they also perused Tommy's or Dicky's examination papers.

One child brought two of his papers home for inspection, because, as he indignantly declared, he "saw the teacher laugh when she was correcting 'em."

"I knew they were mine," he protested, "because both times she looked at me and said: 'O Jimmie, Jimmie, what shall we do with you?' Now, you look at 'em, ma, and tell me what's the matter?"

"Ma" looked and made two choice extracts, over which she herself could not forbear smiling.

"Mountains have a great effect on the rainfall. They are very useful, such times, because when it rains people can take to the mountains for shelter."

"The reason you can't boil eggs at a high altitude is because there is not enough pressure of the atmosphere to harden the yolk."

"Did you understand exactly what you meant by these answers?" asked his mother, mildly.

"I raps not," said Jimmie, with an air of indifference, "but that's what the book said, anyway!"—Youth's Companion.

Compounding Engines.

The question of compounding engines—that is, making a specified amount of steam do its work twice, three, four or more times, and again, by condensing this same steam and by producing a vacuum, making the atmosphere add its force to that of steam, is one that has for a long time received attention from mechanical engineers, especially in the navy and merchant marine. The ordinary high pressure engine as we use them in this city gives for every thirty pounds of water evaporated into steam one indicated horse power per hour. In other words, we use under the most favorable conditions and the most perfect management of furnaces three pounds of coal to produce this result. Now, by compounding engines, or by even going to the point of using triple expanding machines, we can get one indicated horse power per hour from twelve pounds of steam, or with one and two-tenths pounds of coal. This method of using steam is not economical except when you can get plenty of free water for condensation purposes, as it requires one and a half gallons of water per indicated horse power per minute.—Interview in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

This strength was not long maintained. Later on there was some selling of the leading securities which resulted in entire loss of the early advance and even some decline from yesterday's figures, in many cases, by noon. At that hour the decline ranged from 1/8 to 1/4 per cent., the latter in sugar.
